Terminal Disclaimers Required to Overcome Judicially-Created Double Patenting Rejections in Utility and Plant Applications Filed on or After June 8, 1995

Section 532 of Public Law 103-465, 108 Stat. 4809 (1994), amended 35 U.S.C. § 154(a)(2) to provide that any patent issuing on a utility or plant application filed on or after June 8, 1995 will expire twenty years from its filing date, or, if the application claims the benefit of an earlier filed application under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120, 121, or 365(c), twenty years from the earliest filing date for which a benefit under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120, 121, or 365(c) is claimed. Therefore, any patent issuing on a continuing utility or plant application filed on or after June 8, 1995 will expire twenty years from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is claimed under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120, 121, or 365(c), subject to the provisions of 35 U.S.C. § 154(b).

A number of applicants have argued that a terminal disclaimer under 37 C.F.R. § 1.321 should not be required in a continuing application filed on or after June 8, 1995 to overcome a judicially-created double patenting rejection based upon an application for which a benefit is claimed under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120, 121, or 365(c), as any patent issuing on such continuing application would expire no later than the patent issuing on the application which formed the basis for the rejection. The above-mentioned amendment to 35 U.S.C. § 154 notwithstanding, there are at least two reasons for insisting upon a terminal disclaimer to overcome a judicially-created double patenting rejection in such an application.

First: 35 U.S.C. § 154(b) includes provisions for patent term extension based upon various prosecution delays during the application process. Thus, 35 U.S.C. § 154 does not currently ensure that any patent issuing on a continuing utility or plant application filed on or after June 8, 1995 will necessarily expire twenty years from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is claimed under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120, 121, or 365(c). Also, legislation is pending in Congress (H.R. 400 and S. 507, 105th Cong., 1st Sess. (1997)) that would expand the opportunity for adjusting patent terms, prospectively or retroactively, for utility and plant applications applied for on or after June 8, 1995. Therefore, whether under the present statutory provision or pending or future changes to it, the current twenty-year term provision of 35 U.S.C. § 154(a)(2) cannot be relied upon in many cases as ensuring the expiration date of a patent issuing on a utility or plant application filed on or after June 8, 1995.

Second: 37 C.F.R. § 1.321(c)(3) requires that a terminal disclaimer filed to obviate a double patenting rejection include a provision that any patent granted on that application be enforceable only for and during the period that the patent is commonly owned with the application or patent which formed the basis for the rejection. This requirement serves to avoid the potential for harassment of an accused infringer by multiple parties with patents covering the same patentable invention (37 C.F.R. § 1.601(n)). See, e.g., In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 944-48, 214 USPQ 761,767-70 (CCPA 1982). Not insisting upon a terminal disclaimer to overcome a judicially-created double patenting rejection in an application subject to twenty-year term under 35 U.S.C. § 154(a)(2) would result in the potential for the problem that 37 C.F.R. § 1.321(c)(3) was promulgated to avoid.

Accordingly, a terminal disclaimer under 37 C.F.R. § 1.321 is (still) required in an application to overcome a judicially-created double patenting rejection, even if the application was filed on or after June 8, 1995 and claims the benefit under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120, 121, or 365(c) of the filing date of an application which forms the basis for the rejection. Examiners should respond to arguments that a terminal disclaimer under 37 C.F.R. § 1.321 should not be required in a continuing application filed on or after June 8, 1995 to overcome a judicially-created double patenting rejection due to the change to 35 U.S.C. § 154 by citing this Official Gazette notice.

Inquiries regarding this matter should be directed to Senior Legal Advisor Robert W. Bahr at (703) 305-9285.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PTDLs receive both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office and numerical sets of patents in a variety of formats. Patent and trademark search systems in the Cassis CD-ROM series are available at all PTDLs to increase access to that information. It is through the CD-ROM systems and other depository materials that preliminary patent and trademark searches may be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

Each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge. However, there may be charges associated with the use of on-line systems, photocopying and related services.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

Partnership PTDLs provide enhanced and expanded services for which fees are charged. They offer on-line patent text and image searching, on-line trademark searching, and videoconferencing for examiner interviews and workshops. They accept disclosure documents on site, order file wrappers, assignment documents and certified copies for their customers, and host a variety of seminars aimed at specific audiences, including practitioners, paralegals, and independent inventors. Currently, partnerships are located at the Great Lakes Patent and Trademark Center (GLPTC) at the Detroit Public Library in Detroit, Michigan and the Sunnyvale Center for Innovation, Invention and Ideas (SCI²) in Sunnyvale, California.

*A communication from the examiner should have been received in most applications filed prior to this date.

Patents will Expire as Follows:
(1) The term of any utility or plant patent that is in force on or results from an application filed before June 8, 1995 is the greater of the 20 year term provided in 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2) or 17 years from grant subject to any terminal disclaimers. 35 U.S.C. 154(c)(1).
(2) All utility and plant patents granted on applications having an actual United States filing date on or after June 8, 1995 are granted for a term which begins on the date on which the patent is granted and ends 20 years from the date on which the application was filed in the United States. If the application contains a specific reference to an earlier application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c), the patent term ends twenty years from that date on which the earliest application was filed. 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2).
(3) All design patents are granted for a term of 14 years from the date of the grant.
However, the term of any patent may have been curtailed by disclaimer under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 153, have lapsed due to failure to pay maintenance fees, or have been extended under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 154, 155, or 156. Thus, if more reliable information is needed with respect to a particular patent, then the specific patent file should be reviewed to determine the actual date of patent expiration.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

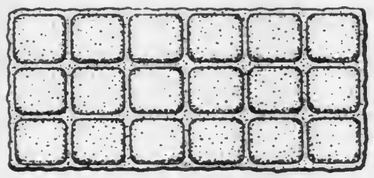
SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION



The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

The following marks have registered on the Principal Register pursuant to the intent-to-use provisions of Section 1(d) of the Trademark Act of 1946, as amended.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
